Greetings,

This was a busy week. We started with two press conferences on Monday, one to celebrate a new bridge in Cypress Park, and another to celebrate the passage of SB1069-ADUs. We also celebrated Lunar New Year with my colleague Councilmember David Ryu. I am happy to report that my colleagues have voted to move forward with a street vending policy that does not criminalize individuals that are trying to earn an honest living.

The field was plenty busy installing new dog waste bags in Glassell Park, opening a new bridge with a protected pedestrian/bike lane, installing a new traffic signal on Figueroa, Keeping It Clean in Pico Union, and attending the Mayor's Consolidated Plan community meeting in Lincoln Heights.

I hope you have a good weekend.

Sincerely,

Gil Cedillo
Councilmember, First District

The most extensive bill on accessory dwelling units to be signed in almost 15 years, SB 1069 reduces significant barriers to building ADUs, often referred to as granny flats, helping to alleviate the housing crisis that exists statewide.

On Tuesday, Councilmembers Gil Cedillo and David Ryu recognized the 2017 Lunar New Year with a presentation and celebration in Council Chambers. The Year of the Rooster began on Saturday, January 28th, and lasts until February 15th, 2018. On Tuesday, the street vending issue was brought to City Council. After nearly two years in the committee process, recommendations for a citywide ordinance were brought forth with instructions to the City Attorney to draft an ordinance without criminalizing street vending in Los Angeles. In light of the national attention on immigration, the City wants to help immigrants assimilate to its social fabric, not penalize them.

The City Attorney will now draft the ordinance and run it through the committee process. Click here to read the committee recommendations.
